H A G U E, September 15.

THE Prince Stadtholder of the united

Provinces has published the following ordinance, viz. That having been informed that in his town and country of Leerdan, as well as in his Barony of Acquoi, the inhabitants had to the present time followed, and carried to a great length, the expensive custom not only of serving wine and beer at interments, but also to give, on such occasions, mortuary repasts and mourning; to remedy this abuse, his Highness forbids all matters of that sort to be given in future under the penalty of an Hundred florins.

Hambourg Sept. 22. Our Senate have written a letter to the King of Sweden, to congratulate him on the late happy revolution in the Government, and to testify to his Majesty the Part which this re-publick takes therein. We give no credit to the report that Russia and Denmark are averse to the late proceedings of the King of Sweden.

Constantinople, Sep. 3. There has been an order issued, that all unmarried people, and those who have not very particular business, should be sent out of the capital; and they are daily transf-porting numbers of people. One hundred and fifty of these had the misfortune to be lost in the Gulf of Nichomedia, three days ago, in a strong gale of wind.

Warsaw Sept. 23. The Russians have evacuated the salt works at Wieliczka and Bothnia, as well as the castle of Wlitz. The crown troops who remained there on the part of the King of Poland to guard the salt works, are also retired, and the inhabitants expect every Day to be obliged to take the oath to the house of Austria.

From the Vistula, Sept. 23. The Prussians have planted officers near Dantzick and Thorn, who demand an excise on all goods that are carried thither, amounting to double what is paid in the dominions of his Prussian Majesty. Dantzick had likewise a considerable revenue from their posts, but the Prussians have taken all these into their own hands.

Warsaw, Sept. 30. The declaration of the neighbouring powers will occasion a Senatus Consultum to take Place. The frequent conferences between the Ministers of Vienna, Petersburg, and Berlin, tend toward the assembling of a Dyet, in order to regulate definitively all the affairs of the kingdom.

Hamburg, Oct. 6. They write from Stockholm, that the King of Sweden had actually in his possession a copy of a manifesto, which was intended to have been published on the 20th of August, by the States, when the upland regiment was to arrive in that city, which was delivered to him by an Ecclesiastic, a member of the Secret Committee, on the 17th at night. It is asserted, that this Clergyman informed his Majesty, that he was not only to have been seized and sent to the castle of Casterhuf, but that the Committee had further resolved to make out the process by which they were to proceed against him, &c.

LONDON, October 1.

A report prevails that the King of Prussia has very recently made some demands upon the Electorate of Hanover, which prove highly disagreeable to this Court.

A letter from Sweden, dated Sept. 8, concludes thus: "The King is quite firmly established in his new form of government, nor can there be the least expectation of a change, because his Majesty has not only the army, but the people in general on his side; which seldom happens on such occasions."

Some Letters from Lisbon mention, that one of the judges who pronounced sentence upon the conspirators against the life of his Portuguese Majesty was massacred in his own house the 4th ult. together with his wife, children, and three servants.

Among other objects of importance which the new Ambassador, Lord Stormont, has in charge at the Court of Versailles, is an agreement on our part to lower the duty on French wines, provided France on her part, consents to take our hardware; a treaty which has been long talked of, and is supposed to be very advantageous to both kingdoms.

The affair of looting off the rotten boroughs from a power of electing members to serve in parliament, and granting representatives to principal towns, was lately mentioned in the cabinet; but Lord North declared, that however desirous such a circumstance might be, there was too much business at present on the hands of government, to allow of any attempts at improving the form of our constitution. [Has this matter any relation to the form of our constitution?]

A certain member of St. Stephen's Chapel is framing a bill, in order to enforce the residence of the clergy, and that the same may be grounded on strict justice, and productive of the greater utility, the Bishops will be obliged to reside within their dioceses for full nine months in every year, under the penalty of 500l.

Oct. 3. Letters from Riga, dated Sept. 22, say, "that a revolution had lately happened at Courland, and that the Duke de Biron was obliged to retire. The particulars of which are still unknown, but it is the general cause, and the People in every country begin now to open their eyes, and will no longer bear the yoke of arbitrary power."

Yesterday Sir Stephen Theodore Janssen, Bart. chamberlain of this city, polled for the Aldermen Wilkes and Townsend; after which he delivered into the hands of Mr. Lewis a paper, containing the following words: I never will give my Poll on the side espoused by Ministers, who have dared to advise his Majesty to pardon Murder and B—Y.

Since the above, the following has appeared:—The Friends of Sir Stephen Theodore Janssen present their Compliments to the worthy Liverymen of London, and beg that the ridiculous paper which he yesterday delivered to Mr. Sheriff Lewis, may not prejudice him in their Opinion, as his great Age, joined to his personal infirmities, has materially impaired his judgment.

Yesterday afternoon a man in Gravel lane caught a man in bed with his wife, whom he immediately seized and dismembered. His life is despaired of.

Oct. 6. So much was the heart of a certain great Personage in the late election, that it is said messengers were dispatched every half hour with an account of the state of the poll.

Mr. Wilkes dress and address have both been such during the present Election, as undeniably to testify to all mankind, that neither his spirits nor credit are exhausted, notwithstanding the misrepresentations of the malevolent.

In a letter from Altona, dated Sept. 25, is the following passage: "Letters received here from Dantzick say, it is now quite over with us and our trade. The dividing of the kingdom of Poland is passed, and the three powers have already taken possession of their respective shares."

"The present century (says a writer in one of the papers) may very justly be styled the age of revolutions; in which the Empress of Russia took the lead. The next person in this crown dance, is Lewis XV, and he, good man, first banished all the Jesuits out of his kingdom, and then banished all the Parliaments out of Paris to the same tune. Not to be behind hand with these Roman Catholic Kings, the Protestant King of Denmark banished his own dear wife; and, to convince the world of the great benefits naturally resulting from petticoat government, put the political reins into the hands of his step mother. This young man's neighbour, Gustavus, King of Sweden, perceiving with what facility revolutions are now a days effected, thought it very pretty to be an absolute Monarch, so he dissolved himself of his coronation oath, dissolved his Parliament, and told them, that if he should think proper he would call them together in six Years. The young Emperor of Germany could not see all this fine sport going on, as a mere spectator; therefore not to be intirely idle, he sends an army of 60,000 men into Poland, and appropriates to himself one fourth part of that Kingdom, an earnest of one day monopolizing the whole. But of all the Royal Revolutionists of the present age, commend to me that excellent Logician the King of Prussia; by a new mode of reasoning, far superior to that of the schools, he fairly proves, that Royal Prussia and Great Poland belonged to the house of Brandenburg long before that house existed; and therefore it is but right it should belong to that house now it actually does exist."

Letters from Madrid say, that the Prince Masserano, who lately resided here as Ambassador from that court, is likely to be called to an account for giving up to the British court some particular points with regard to the prior right to Falkland's Islands. The same letters say, that the greatest preparations are making for war, that were ever known in that Kingdom; and that their naval force is much stronger than ever it was before, having been augmenting of it ever since the conclusion of the last war.

Letters from Gibraltar say, that a very powerful fleet of men of war, consisting of Spanish and Portuguese ships are arrived in the Mediterranean, but for what intent is not known.

OCTOBER 12.

On Saturday it was strongly reported that there had been a revolution in another Northern kingdom, and that the Potentate is absolutely deposed.

Extract of a Letter from Gibraltar, Sept. 8.

"We have advice from Madrid, that the Indians of Chili in South America have revolted, and were not subdued when the express came away. On the 14th of May last a body of Indians, amounting to 10,000, having surprised Baldivia, the principal port in Chili, they put to death the inspector of the King's gold mines, set the black slaves free, and massacred all the Europeans they could find. Some resistance being made, they became enraged, and set on fire the magnificent suburbs of that place, with all the churches and convents. At the departure of the express, 4000 troops were ordered from Lima to quell the insurrection."

Extract of a Letter from Hambro', dated Oct. 5.

"It gives me great concern that I am obliged to acquaint you that Messieurs—have this morning stopped payment; and I am afraid their affairs are in so bad a situation, that they will not be able to make up matters so as to go on again. I hope your connections with them were not great; for it is said that they have failed for near 200,000l."

Extract of a letter from Schwerin, in Mecklenburgh, dated September 28.

"The Prussian Alexander, the legislator of Germany, the scourge of his neighbours, the master of the politics of Europe, has at last resolved to discover his scheme, by sending a large body of troops into the duchy of Holstein, namely, into that part belonging to the Grand Duke; but, as we see the alliance between Prussia and Russia concerning the affairs of Poland, we rather believe that the neighbouring provinces, as Danish Holstein, Schleswick, Gottorp, and Jutland, will have more reason to prepare for a warlike resistance, as these provinces are in the hands of the King of Denmark, from the beginning to this present moment, by an illegal possession."

Oct. 13. On Sunday an express arrived from Petersburg, and, we hear, brings a confirmation of a revolution which lately happened there, and the deposing the Empress. It is further said, it was brought about by the French, who were jealous of her growing greatness, and saw that she was no friend to their interests, but shewed the greatest regard to the English. On the contrary,

We can assure our readers, upon the best authority, that the letters from Petersburg, which arrived yesterday by the foreign mails, make not any mention of the revolution, which, it is reported, has lately happened there.

Alderman Beckford polled for Mayor 1967, Trecothick 1601, Nash 2199, Wilkes 2301.

It is a truth beyond contradiction, there remained upwards of 400 staunch Wilkites who had not polled at the close of the Poll. By this it is plain to a demonstration, that the popular cause gains ground daily.

It is a fact, that several public societies have already sent handsome subscriptions to the committee at the Paul's Head, towards defraying the expence of the scrutiny, which the patriotic party are determined to carry through, with the utmost vigour.

We hear that the Rev. Dr. Wilson has subscribed 100l. towards the expence of the scrutiny.

A short time since was interred at Derby, near Norwich, John Guest, who only measured thirty-three inches in height, and was upwards of thirty-eight years of age.

From Warsaw we learn, that, on Sunday the 20th of September, the Ambassadors from the Court of Berlin, Vienna, and Petersburg, notified to the King, and his Ministers, from their several Sovereigns, the claims, in virtue of which they have taken possession of certain territories in that Kingdom. they also demanded, that a Diet should be convoked for the purpose of recognizing the above claims. The King declared, that he would not set his hand to any thing on that subject; and that, under the present circumstances of Affairs, no Diet could possibly be held. The manifesto of the Empress of Russia (with neither date, nor the name of the place where it was published) does not mention what parts of Poland she lays claim to; but it is just now reported, that she will take possession of the Palatinates of Polocks, Witepsk, and Melsaw, which together form near one third of the Duchy of Lithuania.

The Empress Queen has, by her manifesto, claimed the following countries and territories in the Kingdom of Poland, viz. All the right shore of the Vistula, from the Dutchy of Silesia to Sandomir, and the head of the San; from thence by Fronepol to Samozia and Rubieskow, as far as the river Bug, thus forming the real frontiers of ked Russia (and at the same time those of Volhinia and Podolia) as far as the environs of Sbaraz; from thence in a straight line on the Niefter, along the little river which traverses a small part of Podolia, and is called the Podpreza, as far as the Place where it empties itself into the Niefter; and from thence to the customary frontiers between Podolia and Moldavia.

An Ambassador extraordinary is soon expected here from Warsaw, where some important negotiations are said to be on the carpet for supporting the political balance in the north of Europe.

The friends of freedom at the Paul's Head tavern may boast of the best piece of Generalship that has ever been transacted at any election. They subscribed one guinea each, to the amount of 500, for tavern expences, and, by examining the state of the poll daily, a party went always out soliciting the unpoll'd Livery, whilst the others were backing their endeavours by wagers, which made them all principals; whereby, it is supposed, besides carrying the election, they have cleared more money than will pay the expence of the scrutiny.

The plan of operation, laid down by the ministerial party, on occasion of the late election, is as follows:—They will object to such a number of the voters on the popular side, as would if their objections were admitted, turn the scale in their favour; and, on a refusal from the other party to admit such objections, they will carry the affair into the Court of King's bench, where it may remain for some months, during which time Mr. Nash will act as Locum Tenens.

Our wretched ministers, and their more wretched tools, are determined, by every means in their power, to make Mr. Wilkes still more popular than ever.—It is supposed that the late demand of a scrutiny has gained him a thousand additional friends.

We are assured by a person who took the poll, that the scrutiny will turn out to Mr. Wilkes's advantage, his voters on the whole being plain, decent men; while the Court candidates, amidst a few rich, polled the very ragged also.

The demanding a scrutiny appears to be not only unreasonable, but ungenerous also; for there were many Livery men in Mr. Wilkes's interest ('tis said full 300) left unpoll'd when the books were finally closed, which was agreed to be done at the desire of his competitors. How honourable, therefore, is it for Messrs. H. and S. to insist upon a scrutiny, with a view of superseding the majority against them, which would have been still larger, but for the above insidious finess in getting the poll books closed!

Oct. 14. A star of a very uncommon aspect, has made its appearance in our hemisphere; it is somewhat larger than the last comet, has no tail, but emits blazes of Fire; it rises between four and five in the morning, east of London; it travels with such surprising velocity, that it sets before the sun rises.

Extract of a letter from a Merchant in Dantzick, to his Correspondent at Hamburg, dated Sept. 28.

"The King of Prussia has established a new custom house about a German mile from our harbour, where every ship coming and going is obliged to pay a tribute, called an additional tribute; and as such an insupportable duty is impossible to be paid, every ship must remain in this place till this affair shall be settled. This caused a great alarm in this city, that all the foreign Ministers, in one body, made a most warm address about it to the court of Berlin, and insisted upon a speedy redress, which we expected about the 5th or 8th of October; in the mean time you must put a stop to business till further information."

Oct. 17. Tuesday.—At three in the afternoon, died at his seat at Bagshot Park, the Right Hon. George Keppel, Earl of Albemarle, Viscount Bury, a Lieutenant General, Colonel of the third or King's own regiment of dragoons, and governor of Jersey.

Lord North now enjoys the greatest honours any commander ever possessed in this Kingdom, as he is Knight of the Garter, Chancellor of the first University in Europe, and Minister of State.

A gentleman lately arrived from France says, that during the time he was at St. Maloe's, no less than 12 vessels arrived there with flour from North-America.

CHARLES-TOWN. (So. Carolina) November 14.

A young Negro Fellow, belonging to Mr. George Blakie, having for some time past complained of a violent Pain in his Head, a Puke was given him Yesterday, as the Cause was imagined to proceed from a foul Stomach, when he brought up a large fat Worm, upwards of nine Yards in Length, to the Surprise of every Person who saw it.

NEWPORT, December 7.

Last Saturday arrived his Majesty's ship Swan James Ayscough, Esq; commander, from a cruise after the pirate which was said to be on the coast, but saw nothing of her.

We hear from East Hampton, on Long Island, that last Monday being training day, as the Company were discharging their muskets to break up, a young man, named Osborne, thinking to make a louder explosion than the rest, spat into the muzzle of his piece, and struck the breech against the ground, when he went off, and the whole charge entered at his left eye, and blow'd his brains out; he expired in about half an hour.

BOSTON, December 10.

On the 4th December his Majesty's ship Swan, Capt. Ayscough, was off New London Harbour, and had made a Seizure of a Vessel bound in there from New-York.

MR. DRAPER,

WHEREAS it has been maliciously reported by some evil disposed person, or persons, that his Majesty's Schooner Halifax, commanded by Lieut. Crispin, was the Vessel that committed the horrible Act of Piracy in Boston Bay in the Course of the last Month, and murdered three of his Majesty's Subjects.

If you think it will afford any Satisfaction to the good People of this Province, you will be pleased to insert in your next Paper from undoubted Authority, that the Admiral received Dispatches from the said Lieut. Crispin, Commander of said Schooner, dated from Horse and Peck Island Road in Casco-Bay the 29th ult. all well.

We hear that the trial of Amell Nicholson for the murder of three men and a boy, on board a schooner, as formerly mentioned, is put off, in order that some light may be had if possible in this, at present, mysterious but melancholy event.

PHILADELPHIA, December 12.

From New Orleans we learn, that the French Inhabitants, being sick of the oppressive Yoke of the Spaniards, are removing as fast as possible, so that there is at least Two-thirds of them departed from thence already.

Charlotta Precinct, Dutchess County, Nov. 26.

ABOUT two Months ago, two mad Dogs appeared in this Neighbourhood, and bit several Animals, of which the greatest Number were soon after seized with the Symptoms of that peculiar Madness, and died. Among them was a Cow, belonging to one Mr. Jacklin: This unhappy Man, anxious to preserve his Creature, and not apprehensive of the Danger to which he exposed himself, while the Symptoms of Madness were on her, made use of several Remedies for her Relief. And particularly, in Order to give her a drench, he thrust his Hand (upon which at that Time he happened to have an Ulcer) into her Throat, and grasped her Tongue, and after the Cow's Death, to save her Hide, had the farther Imprudence to flea her. From that Time until Friday the 6th Instant, he continued in his usual Health, but on that Day he drooped, complained much of a general Uneasiness and Distress, and passed the succeeding Night with much Anxiety and Restlessness. On the next Morning, the Characteristic Symptom of the Canine Madness, the Hydrophobia (or Dread of Water) came on; within twelve hours he became furiously mad, and on Sunday, about one o'clock, he expired.

This (from many others which could be produced) is one unhappy Instance of the extreme Subtility of this dreadful Poison; and of the great Danger there is in tampering with Animals, of whose being infected with it there is the least Suspicion: And the Publication of it is judged the more necessary, as from the Infrequency of this Complaint among us, and the general Ignorance of the Country People of the Danger to which they expose themselves; the Owners of a favourite Dog, or other Animal, have frequently been led into very hazardous Attempts to preserve their Lives; trusting, for their security, to tying them up, or even suffering them to run at large, until they have done irreparable Mischief. It is hoped, therefore, that the Relation of this Fact will prevent such a dangerous Security for the Future; and that all Persons who shall become acquainted with it, will hereafter exert themselves, on every Occasion, to put a Stop to this dreadful Malady, by the timely Death of every Beast, in which the first Symptoms of Madness shall appear.

NEW-YORK, December 17.

Friday last the Ship Dutchess of Gordon, Capt. Winn, sailed for London.

Saturday Night the 5th Instant, the Gaol at Poughkeepsie, in Dutchess County, was discovered to be on Fire near the Eve, supposed to be done designedly by some Villians, in Order to facilitate the Escape of two Horse Stealers confined therein; but their Schemes were frustrated by the Activity and Care of the Gaoler and the Inhabitants that assembled on the Occasion, who happily extinguished the Fire, and prevented the Escape of any of the Prisoners.

Last Sunday in the Forenoon, an excellent Charity Sermon was preached at St. Paul's Chapel, by the Revd. Mr. Inglis, when a handsome Collection was made for the Benefit of the Charity School in this City.

In the Afternoon of the same Day another excellent Charity Sermon was preached in the New Presbyterian Brick Church, by the Revd. Dr. Rogers, and a handsome Collection made for the Use of the Poor of this Place.

The General Assembly of this Province, meets here on the 5th of January, and Circular Letters are sent, notifying the same, to the respective Members.

Extract of a Letter from Demara, dated Sept. 10, 1772.

"On the 12th of August at Night, the Negroes on Hooff's, Callardo's and De Vries's Plantations, rose and murdered Hooff, his Wife, Konning, and three white Carpenters; they attempted to destroy all the Whites at the Hague, but the New House there was most bravely defended, by Clinton and James Williams, and two or three more, for two Days, before they had any Assistance. This gallant Opposition, in all Probability, saved the Colony. God knows, how far the Flame would have spread, if it had not been for this Check; for on the first Alarm most of the Whites on the Coast fled in great Conformation to the Rivers."

We have certain Advice from Surinam, that a Party of 300 free Negroes that had been sent out to attack the rebellious Slaves at that Place, had about the Beginning of October, taken one of their small Towns, with 40 Women and Children, and 10 Men Prisoners; our Informant having seen the Slaves at Surinam the 15th of October.

[The Chapters of ISAAC the SCRIBE, lately published in this Paper, being much called for, are now republished in a small Pamphlet, and may be had of the Printer of this Paper.]

A SCRIPTURAL COMMENT

Upon the Thirty-nine Articles of the Church of England.

By M. MADAN, A. B.

CHAPLAIN to the Right Honourable Henry Lord Apsley, Lord High Chancellor of Great-Britain, and to the Luck Hospital, near Hyde Park corner.

1 Pet. 2, 1. There were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies.

The author in his preface observes; "When good Bishop Latimer (who with Bishop Ridley was burnt by the papists for maintaining the doctrines in the following articles) was going to the stake, he said to his fellow sufferer, Be of good comfort Mr. Ridley, and play the man,—we shall this day light such a fire in England by God's grace, as I trust shall never be put out. The sort of fire which consumed their bodies, was extinguished with the extinction of Popery, but the fire which this good Bishop meant, now burns and shines in the established doctrines of the Church of England."

POET'S CORNER.

*He who unwearied Ende pursues,
Mill Time, Expence, and Labour lose.*

A Grecian youth of talents rare,
Whom Plato's philosophic care
Had form'd for virtue's nobler view,
By precept and example too,
Would often boast his matchless skill
To curb the freed and guide the wheel.
And as he pass'd the gazing throng,
With graceful ease, and smack'd the throng,
Was praise and transport to his breast.
At length quite vain the needs wou'd show
His master, what his art could do;
And had his slave the chariot lead
To Academi's sacred shade;
The trembling grove confess'd its frights;
The Wood-Nymphs startled at the sight,
The Muses dropt the learned lyre,
And to their inmost shades retire.
How'er the youth with forward air,
Bows to the sage, and mounts the car.
The last refounds, the couriers spring,
The chariot marks the rolling ring,
And gath'ring crowds, with eager eyes
And shouts pursue him as he flies.
Triumphant to the goal return'd;
With nobler thirst his bosom burn'd;
And now along th' extended plain,
The self-same track he marks again,
Pursues with care the nice delusion,
Nor ever deviates from the line.
Amusement seiz'd the circling crowd,
The youths with emulation glow'd;
E'en bearded sages hail'd the boy,
And all but Plato gas'd with joy.
For he, deep judging sage, beheld
With pain the triumphs of the field;
And when the char'otier drew nigh,
And flush'd with hope had caught his eye,
Alas! unhappy youth he cry'd,
Expect no praise from me, (and sigh'd)
With indignation I survey,
Thy skill and judgment thrown away.
The time profusely squander'd there
On vulgar arts beneath thy care,
If well employ'd, at less expence,
Had taught the Honour, Virtue, sense,
And rais'd thee from a Coachman's fate,
To govern men and guide the state.

LONDON, October 2.

It is strongly reported, that at the meeting of Parliament a new regency will be appointed, in order to hinder the two brothers in disgrace, from having any share in the administration.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, Sept. 25.

"Letters received here from Hamburg advise, that the late revolution in Sweden has excited the attention of the court of Petersburg; and a report prevails, that the Empress of Russia has given orders for 25,000 men to march immediately into Finland; but the motives which have induced her Imperial Majesty to take this step remain a mystery."

October 3. It is said that application has been made by a great personage, that no English subjects may be permitted to join the colony to be settled on the Mississippi.

By letters just received from Hamburg, we learn that his Prussian Majesty is forming large magazines in different parts of his dominions, and that the court of Saxony is augmenting its troops.

October 5. Three great evils now threaten the nation: 1. Europe being on the eve of a general war, Great Britain, notwithstanding Lord North's prophecy, must be drawn into the general vortex. 2. The East India Company, by the jobbing of Directors, must break, and in the language of the eloquent Mr. E. Burke, cut off one of the nation's hands. 3. The livery of London, regardless of the liberty of the press, and consequently of general liberty, begin to forget what they owe to Alderman Wilkes. Till their charter is invaded, and their Magistrates imprisoned, they will not stir. With what face can they henceforward present remonstrances, or complain of corruption in the lower house? The acceptance of a bribe of five guineas from a Prussian barber renders them totally contemptible.

The congress at Focznani is broke up, France has gained her end, and Europe is returned to the very situation in which it stood at the beginning of the negotiation with Spain; Sweden will take up arms against Russia; Prussia and Poland, and France, will join the confederacy, and the Turks will once more lift up their heads. Austria, Russia and Prussia, foreseeing this event, have seized upon parts of Poland in order to make them, during the war, serve the same purpose as Saxony did in the last war to the King of Prussia.

The French and Spaniards are prepared to strike a blow in both Indies. The former has not yet withdrawn their eight thousand men from the Mauritius, nor the latter their fleet from the Havannah. Bengal and Jamaica are both in jeopardy; the one from its defenceless situation and the discontent of the Negroes; the other from the rapine of the Company's servants, and the gambling of the Directors.

By advices from Berlin, we learn that the Prussians are indefatigable in building fortresses, and putting garrisons in every place of consequence in Polish Prussia.

A letter from Stockholm, dated September 26, says, "The following Counsellors of State are constantly near the King, his Majesty being sensible that the fate of a whole nation to be decided by one head is unjust, and cannot possibly be of any good consequence, therefore his Majesty does not the least thing without consulting those masterly politicians, viz. the High Chancellor, Count Ulrich Sheffer, the Counts Liewen, Horn, Passé and Ferffen, besides Count Hoepkin, who attends the King every where. During the writing this Letter, the mail arrived from Finland, and two hours ago a courier arrived from thence; both confirm that a new change of Government is every hour expected in our neighbouring Danish Empire; and another is expected in another neighbouring one."

And as a further inducement, he will engage his work for a year after it is delivered, that is, if any part gives way or fails by fair usage, he will make it good at his own expense.
